AVARAN

The Journey

BAHAMIAN REGGAE ARTIST • SONGWRITER • PERFORMER

For nearly three decades, Bahamian reggae artist Avaran has quietly built an international career through determination, authenticity, and an unwavering commitment to reggae music. From South Florida recording studios to stages across Europe, North America, the Caribbean, and Jamaica, he has earned the respect of musicians, promoters, broadcasters, and reggae audiences worldwide—without the backing of a major label.

GUIDED BY PURPOSE.
INSPIRED TO UPLIFT.

BORN IN THE BAHAMAS.

Deeply influenced by Jamaica's rich reggae tradition while proudly embracing his Bahamian roots, Avaran blends Lovers Rock warmth with the depth and conviction of classic Roots Reggae. His music speaks of faith, perseverance, hope, love, and the resilience of ordinary people.

THE EARLY YEARS.

Avaran's professional journey began in South Florida during the 1990s, where he recorded his first single, "No Part of It", and became known for recording exclusive dubplates for Miami's legendary Cancer High Power Sound System. He opened for the late Lucky Dube at Miami's Cameo Theatre—an early defining moment that affirmed his belief that authentic music transcends borders.

INTERNATIONAL STAGE.

Avaran has performed throughout the Netherlands, Germany, Belgium, Luxembourg, Switzerland, England, The Bahamas, Jamaica, and the United States. In 2000, he toured Europe alongside reggae icon Michael Rose, performing in Amsterdam and Rotterdam (Netherlands), throughout major cities in Germany—including Hamburg—as well as appearances in Belgium and Luxembourg.

Among his career highlights, he opened for Beres Hammond and Half Pint at the MIDEM Music Conference in Cannes, France—performing before music executives and industry leaders from around the world.

SHARED STAGE WITH LEGENDS.

Avaran has shared stages with Luciano, Capleton, Anthony B, Freddie McGregor, Gregory Isaacs, John Holt, Mykal Rose, Half Pint, Terry Ganzie, Yami Bolo, and Michael Rose—experiences that shaped his growth as a performer and strengthened his place in the global reggae community.

RECORDING & COLLABORATIONS.

He has worked with respected producers and artists including Karl Pitterson, Luciano, Gregory Isaacs, John Holt, Terry Ganzie, and Michael Rose. Recording sessions were also initiated with the late Bobby "Digital" Dixon, which were never completed before his passing. These experiences broadened his musical perspective and commitment to excellence.

MUSIC & DISCOGRAPHY.

Recording under Hungrybelly Records, Avaran has released the albums Short Rope and Danger Zone. Signature singles include Sunshine After Rain, Love Cry, Who Shall Jah Send and The Father's Work (a collaboration with Luciano)—songs that explore faith, perseverance, love, and hope through a blend of Roots Reggae and Lovers Rock.

SUNSHINE AFTER RAIN – A NEW CHAPTER.

Recorded at Anchor Recording Studio in Kingston, Jamaica, with Earl "Chinna" Smith (guitar), Errol "Flabba" Holt (bass), Robbie Lyn (keys), Kirk "Kirkledove" Bennett (drums), Nikki Burt (background vocals), Delroy "Phatta" Pottinger (engineer) and Ed Robinson (mix & mastering). The single celebrates gratitude, enduring love, and the belief that brighter days always follow life's storms.

JAMAICA MEDIA CAMPAIGN.

The release of Sunshine After Rain launched a dedicated promotional tour of Jamaica, earning features in the Jamaica Observer and Jamaica Star, interviews on leading radio and TV programmes, and airplay across major Jamaican broadcasters.

THE MISSION CONTINUES.

Representing The Bahamas with pride while honoring Jamaica's immeasurable contribution to reggae music, Avaran continues to write, record, and perform with purpose—creating music that encourages, uplifts and inspires audiences around the world.
